

Bananas from the West Indies to your Kitchen

Start	Bananas grow on plants	Farmers harvest the bananas	Bananas are processed and packaged	Bananas transported to the ships Oil or petrol is used
Carbon dioxide is produced
Jobs are created Waste is produced

cut along here, and stick table on to page 2

stick page 1 to this edge to make one very wide table

Ships transport the bananas	Bananas transported from ships to shops	You buy the bananas in the shops	Car or bus home from the shops	Banana in the kitchen to eat